Nagel Family Cemetery, Leader, Saskatchewan.

This small family plot in the northwest corner of NW 10-22-27-W3 has all but vanished, some unkind soul has bulldozed all the grave markers onto one pile about fifteen feet square. A nearby resident stated that there were about five markers in this plot but we could only find two as at June 16, 1997. This piece of land was homesteaded by Ludwig Nagel and is currently owned by Norman Nagel (probably a grandson to Ludwig). A small mound of dirt covered with weeds marks the spot about fifty yards south of the road and about two hundred yards east of the north/south road. I expect this site to vanish within the next generation. During the summer of 1999, Paul Nagel from Leader, Saskatchewan, restored this small plot to nearly its original state. Funding by the R.M. of Happy Land enabled the placing of the grave markers, planting of grass and installation of a stone marker with a plaque naming all those interred here.

The following taken from the two grave markers found on the weed infested mound:

Nagel nee Bark Sophia 31 years, died November 01, 1912, wife of Ludwig Nagel. Ludwig was the homesteader of this property.

Schelske nee Kieson Karolina died at 73 years, April 12, 1912, wife of Wilhelm Schelske.

As at May 01, 1999, Paul Nagel along with help from the municipality of Happy Land have restored this location, Paul dug the three grave markers out of the dirt pile and they have been placed as near as possible to the graves.

Following known as buried here:

Lukowitoch August born 1860 died 1913. There is a marker for this grave.

Nagel child died November 01, 1912, of Ludwig Nagel and Sophia Bark.

Nagel Karl infant male died 1912 of August Nagel and Christina Berndt.

Seventh Day Adventist Cemetery, Leader, Saskatchewan.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church was organized September 11, 1915, at that time it was known as the Prussia Church and remained so until 1918. Services were held in pioneer's homes until a church was built at Leader. This plot is located one mile west of highway #21 and one and one half miles south of Leader, Saskatchewan, in the northeast corner of SE 17-22-26-W3, land homesteaded by Michael Gill. The outline of the one acre plot is marked by metal pegs, grass has not been cut as at June 16, 1997.

The Saskatchewan Folklore Society Incorporated erected a plaque in 1994, it reads: "This plaque is dedicated to the glory of God and the pioneers whose enduring strength and unwavering courage opened up a new land."

This cemetery was originally utilized by members of the Seventh Day Adventist Faith who were of German/Russian descent. Some of the Family names known to be buried here are Albrecht, Cocks, Dais, Gill, Kerbs, Leno, Rader, Reimche, Reuscher and Weiss.

The majority of names and the exact number of individuals buried here remains with "God."

There are five visible grave stones in this plot, one of these is crumbling and its markings can not be read. The names marked with a * were gathered from other sources.

The following are interred here:

St. John's Lutheran Church Leader, Saskatchewan.

The congregation of St. Johns was organized in 1910. The cemetery was dedicated November 14, 1910. by Reverend William C. Hitzemann of Winnipeg, Manitoba, he often made missionary trips under Reverend C.F. Walther. the Corresponding Missions Secretary of the Minnesota District. The first protocol of the congregation is signed by Ernest Wenzel and Ernest Baerwald. A meeting held June 05, 1911, was attended by twelve men, Rudolph Meier, Arnold Wenzel, Ernest Wenzel, Heinrich Wenzel, Rudolph Wenzel, Kornelius Zilke, Wilhelm Martin, Rudolph Hohn, Fredrick Wenzel, Ernest Baerwald, Johann Wenzel and Daniel Ratke. This group of pioneer settlers decided to build St. John's Lutheran Church, the congregation was incorporated in 1918, and joined the Missouri Synod in 1921.

The small 13 by 24 foot church was built in 1911 with lumber hauled from Maple Creek and the Smith Ranch. A loan of $500.00 from Rudolph Wenzel allowed the congregation to pay for the church in 1912. The building was enlarged in 1916 and a parsonage was also constructed that year.

This small congregation decided to build a parochial school, in 1924, with the help of a $1800.00 loan from the Church Extension Fund this was accomplished. In 1942, the parochial school was changed to a separate school and remained so until 1962.

The parsonage, located on the east side of the road across from the church, was moved to Leader, Saskatchewan, in 1947, the congregation then maintained the eight acres of church and cemetery property on the west side of the road. Ground breaking services for a new church in Leader were held May 17, 1959, the corner stone laid September 13, 1959, and the new building was dedicated November 15, 1959, with the service being conducted from the old church by Reverend G. Knoernschild.

Pastors who served St. John's were: 1911 to 1915 Paul A. Schmidke, 1915 to 1919 Otto H. Linnemeier, 1919 to 1933 John H. Lucht, 1934 to 1938 Reinhold H. Threiner, 1938 to 1940 Jacob R. Esslinger, 1940 to 1949 Frederick A. Schole, 1949 to 1952 Edgar M. Preis, 1953 to 1956 Louis C. Theiss, and 1958 to 1969 Gerhardt E. Knoernschild.

This cemetery is located ten miles south of Leader, Saskatchewan, on the west side of highway #21, on SE 04-21-26-W3. The property is well maintained, the old church building has been replaced with a replica of St. John's Lutheran Church including pews and pulpit. One can browse through several original church books, many photos of the congregation, the cemetery records and other papers inside the small building. Please sign the register while visiting. The cemetery is still active as at June 02, 1997.

Later, the congregation moved to the former Keller Photo Studio.

The meeting of this group caused quite a stir in the community, they were on occasion, subjected to mockery and egg throwing.
