

St. Michael's Catholic Church, Burstall, Saskatchewan.

Sometime during the late 1960's, several members of this parish purchased a building from the town, it had previously been used by the Baptist congregation. The first Mass was conducted by Father Reschney of Liebenthal, Saskatchewan. Mass was not held on a regular basis. An organizational meeting was held March 25, 1970, and a later meeting established the first church board. In August 1970, Bishop Ami Decosse declared the mission of St. Michael's of Burstall, Saskatchewan, officially established as of May 17, 1970.

Father Reschney was transferred to be replaced by Father Klein who served and conducted regular mass from March 1970 until December 19, 1975. Father Wagner of Richmond, Saskatchewan conducted mass after the sudden passing of Father Klein, Father Wagner was replaced by Father Joe Blatz in August 1976.

The small building soon became too cramped; therefore the parish purchased a building from Peace Lutheran Church at Leader, Saskatchewan. The church was moved to Burstall, Saskatchewan, and was in place by August 1978. The first mass in this building was October 08, 1978. The official opening June 26, 1979, saw Bishop Noel Delequis as celebrant, Father Provincial and several priests from neighbouring parishes assisted.

On August 27, 1979, a farewell mass was celebrated for Father Joe Blatz who was replaced by Father Ron Rissling on November 11, 1979. The first wedding at St. Michael's was celebrated November 1979, when Tammy Kelln and Paul Dietrich were married.
